

THIRD YEAR.

Matter for publication in The Ledger MUST be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning.

Reliable tobacco insurance. W. M. Warden.

The Marion County Grand Jury has returned eight indictments against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad for alleged discrimination in freight rates against the city of Lebanon.

Colonel Sam Stairs Saturday launched his Searchlight on an unsuspecting people. It is published at Dover, of handsome typographical appearance, and each of its twenty-four columns "chock full" of ideas—only ideas, without a practical peg to hang a jawbreaker on. It is a clever fellow, and THE LEDGER hopes he may have a whole lot of fun out of his venture—and all the money the Orangers will give him.

J. W. Gary, aged about 50 years, residing in the Bardie neighborhood, one of the best known citizens of this county, a man who was highly respected by all who knew him, died yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock of aneurism of the heart after an illness of only two days. He leaves a wife and three children. The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, being conducted by Rev. J. D. Reed of the M. E. Church, South.

James Hason was one of the visitors to the Police Court yesterday, and he got $1 and costs for a plain drunk.

Miss Sarah B. McAttee and Mr. Roscoe R. Gilkey, both of Chicago, had a desire for romance, and just went over to Lexington and got married Sunday morning, returning in the evening.

Miss Bette P. Smith and John Hays, both colored, were married Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in this city. Miss Smith teaches school at Germantown and Mr. Hays is the fellow who has been employed putting down concrete pavements around our city the past summer.

"Slide Tracked" with Julie Walters in the leading role will be witnessed here at the Opera-house Oct. 13th. There is enough of the melodrama in Slide Tracked for those who like it, while the specialties and comedy features will undoubtedly please those who go to the theatre for amusement.

Jim Fields, the negro who was arrested Saturday night charged with breaking into the warehouse of George T. Wood on Second street and stealing some ginger and pepper, was tried before Judge Wadsworth yesterday afternoon and held in $300 bail to appear before the Grand Jury. He went to jail.

If the weather man knows his business and isn't telling a lie this time, the visitor from North Dakota will make the boys shed some of those old straw hats they are wearing and go have those old summer trousers steved up, or it will more than likely give them a bad cold or a chill. Only a little blizzard for a cent!

The Interstate Democratic Association at Washington has adopted a resolution pledging its members not to ride on Pullman cars. Nothing strange about that. They will all ride on the "Pig" after November, so they will quit riding Pullman a month in advance so it will not go so hard with them when the time comes to change cars.

Miss Nettie Robinson gave a Luncheon Last Night.

Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll was interviewed the other day by a representative of The New York Herald, and in a lengthy talk answered a number of questions which the scribe put to him. The following is an extract of the article, the remaining parts being on such subjects as art, literature and other questions, in which the noted agnostic merely agreed with enlightened literary people of the day:

"Which do you regard as the better, Catholicism or Protestantism?"

"Protestantism," says Colonel Ingersoll, "is better than Catholicism because there is less of it. Protestantism does not teach that a monk is better than a husband and father, that a nun is holier than a mother. Protestantism does not believe in the confessional. Neither do they pretend that Priests can forgive sins. Protestantism has fewer ceremonies and less opera bouffe, clothes, caparisons, medals, crooks and holy tarts. Catholics are an infallible man—an infallible man. Protestantism here an infallible man, written by Hebrews before they were civilized. The infallible man is generally wrong and the infallible book is filled with mistakes and contradictions. Catholics and Protestants are both enemies of intellectual freedom—of real education. The Catholic believes in education enough to make a Catholic of a savage, and the Protestant believes in education enough to make a Protestant of a fool. To there is less belief in religion enough to make free men and women."

THINKS BOTH ARE ABUNDANT.

"Nothing is more absurd than the Catholic creed, and nothing can be more absurd than the Protestant creed, unless it be that of the Catholics. Both churches are the enemies of progress, and both sell sin and crime on credit. Both teach the doctrine of forgiveness. Both tell the murderer if he will only repent he will go straight from the scaffold to paradise. Both tell the thief that there will be more joy in heaven when he repents than over a hundred honest men. Both promise the reward for belief for belief for both threaten everlasting pain for those who think. The Catholics have always persecuted to the extent of their power; so have the Protestants. The Protestants still defend in Geneva, in Scotland, in New England and the Catholics acted like fiends wherever and whenever they had the power. Between the Catholics and Protestants there has been about as much difference as there is between crocodiles and alligators. Both have done the worst they could, both are as bad as they can be, and the world is getting tired of both. The world is not going to choose either—both are to be rejected."

ABOUT THE POPE.

"It may be that the Pope thinks he is infallible, but I doubt it. He may think that he is the agent of God, but I guess not. He may know more than other people, but if he does he has kept it to himself. He does not seem satisfied with standing in the place and stead of God in spiritual matters, but desires temporal power. He wishes to be Pope and King. He is a great man, but he has the right to control the belief of all the world; that he is the shepherd of all 'sheep' and that the flocks belong to him. He thinks that in his keeping is the conscience of mankind. So he imagines that his blessings will be the most beneficial and that his prayers can change the course of natural events. He is a strange mixture of the serious and comical. He claims to represent God, and admits that he is almost a prisoner. There is something pathetic in the condition of this pontiff. When I think of him I think of Lear on the heath—old, broken, touched with insanity and yet, in his own opinion, 'Every inch a King.'"

"The Pope is a fragment, a remnant, a shred, a patch of the ancient power and glory. He is a survival of the unfittest, a souvenir of theocracy, a relic of the supernatural. Of course he will have a few successors, and they will become more and more comical, more and more helpless and impotent as the world grows wiser and free. I am not blaming the Pope. He was poisoned at the breast of his mother. Superstition was mingled with her milk, and he was brought up at school to distrust his reason and to live by faith. And so it may be that his mind was so twisted and tortured out of shape that he now really believes that he is the infallible agent of an infinite God."

OPPOSES THE A. P. A.

"Are you in favor of the A. P. A.?"

"In this country I see no need of secret political societies. I think it better to fight the open field. I am a believer in the right of every man to speak his mind and to allow all others to speak their minds and to make as many converts as they can. As long as we have free speech and a free press I think there is no danger of the country being ruled by any class. "Are you in favor of the A. P. A.?"

"In this country I see no need of secret political societies. I think it better to fight the open field. I am a believer in the right of every man to speak his mind and to allow all others to speak their minds and to make as many converts as they can. As long as we have free speech and a free press I think there is no danger of the country being ruled by any class. The Catholics are much better than the Protestants, and the same can be said of nearly all members of orthodox churches. A majority of American Catholics think a great deal more of this country than they do of their church. When they are in good health they are on our side. It is only when they are very sick that they turn their eyes toward Rome. If they were in the majority, of course, they would destroy all other churches, imprisonment, torture and kill all infidels.

"But they will never be in the majority. They increase now only because Catholics come from other countries. In a few years that supply will cease, and then any Catholic Church will grow weaker every day. The free secular school is the enemy of priestcraft and superstition, and the people of this country will never consent to the destruction of that institution. I want no man persecuted on account of his religion. I give to every other human being every right that I claim for myself."

"THIS WORLD IS GETTING BETTER."

"Do you believe that the race is growing more or less perfect?"

"The world is growing better. There is more real liberty, more thought, more intelligence than ever before. The world was never so charitable or generous as this. We do not put honest debtors in prison. We no longer believe in weaker punishments are less severe. We place a higher value on human life. We are far kinder to animals. To this, however, there is one terrible exception. The vivisection is atrocious. Neither do they mutilate in the name of science, disgrace our age. They excite the horror and indignation of all good people. Leave out the actions of those wretches, and animals are better treated than ever before. So there is less belief in religion and whipping of children. The whip is no longer found in the civilized home. Intelligent parents now govern by kindness, love and reason. The standard of honor is higher than ever. Contracts are more sacred, and men do nearer as they agree. Man has more confidence in the fellowman, and in the goodness of human nature. Yes, the world is getting better, nobler and grander every day. We believe that there will be many progress on our way to the Eden of the future."

"Are the doctrines of agnosticism gaining ground, or what, in your opinion, will be the future of the church?"

"There can be no doubt that the ideas of the agnostic are gaining ground. The scientific spirit has taken possession of the intellectual world. Theological superstitions are everywhere being abandoned. The attention of men everywhere is being directed to the affairs of this world, this life. The gods are growing indistinct, and, like the shapes of clouds, they are changing as they fade. The ideas of special providence have been substantially abandoned. People are losing, and intelligent people have lost, confidence in prayer. Today no intelligent person believes in miracles—in a violation of the facts in nature. They believe that there will be many progress on our way to the Eden of the future."

"The church is supported by the people, and in order to gain the support of the people it must reflect their ideas, their hopes and fears. As the people advance the creeds will be changed, either by changing the words or giving new meanings to the old words. The church, in order to live, must agree substantially with those who support it, and consequently it will change to any extent that may be necessary. If the church remains true to the old standards then it will lose the support of progressive people, and if the people generally advance the church will die. But my opinion is that it will slowly change, that the ministers will preach new meanings to the old words, and the creed will be controlled by the contribution box. One of these days the preachers may become teachers, and when that happens the church will be of use."

DOCTOR MCGILLYN.

The eminent Catholic Priest tells some New Truths.

Dr. Edward McGillyn, a bright light of the Catholic Church, spoke on the A. P. A. in New York Sunday evening, and among other things said:

"Dr. McGillyn is in some degree responsible for the existence of the A. P. A. There were many Priests, namely those of foreign birth, who were unfortunately interperate in their discussions of the school questions. They cannot be discussed as the Tariff, and not with this terrible prejudice? Oh, the horror of this late in the name of Christ."

Dr. McGillyn declared it was the duty of the Catholics to pay no attention to the A. P. A. movement. He said it was better to be ill than to be infected. It was their duty as Christians to turn the other cheek. The Catholic Church has no reason to be proud of all of its officeholders. To refuse to vote for a man better to be ill than to be infected. It was a Protestant, Dr. McGillyn declared to be an outrageous violation of American civic duty.

Are Good Enough for THE LEDGER!

If foreign farmers can ship their produce into our markets and undersell the produce of American farms, how will it profit our farmers to ship American produce to those foreign markets—the markets of the world?

A BUSHEL of wheat brought twenty pounds of sugar under McKinley Protection. It buys only ten pounds of sugar under the first step toward Free-trade. How much will it buy with the absolute Free-trade that is promised to the farmer?

With a crop of 600,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1891, under McKinley Protection, the average price was 83 cents per bushel. With a crop of only 400,000,000 bushels in 1893, under Democracy, it averages only 53 cents. Put this in your pipe, farmers, and think it over.

ANOTHER market for our farm products is to be taken away from the American farmer through the Tariff legislation of the Free-trade party. Brazil follows the example of Cuba, having given notice that she will cancel her reciprocity treaty with the United States at the end of this year. Next?

SECRETARY CARLISLE has referred to the Attorney General for his opinion the question as to when the several sections of the wool schedule of the new Tariff Act go into effect. This shows the entire inactivity of the Democrats. They can't make a law that even they themselves can understand.

A FAR of foreign-made pickles represents and is the product and labor of more than half a dozen skilled foreign workmen, besides of ordinary labor. The American storekeeper who sells those foreign pickles cannot sell a pound of groceries to any one of those skilled or unskilled foreign laborers, but if they were made in this country some storekeeper would be able to supply the men who work in the American pickle factory, thus helping the storekeeper to build up a demand for the products that he has for sale.

The following business card was addressed to a large local establishment in Jersey City, N. J.:

MONTREAL, CAN., August 20th.

Dear Sir: With the reduction in the Tariff I am able to reduce prices on hay. No 1 Timothy from $17.25 to $14.25.

B'r'r Mammoth, there must be a screw loose somewhere. If the American consumer pays the Tariff, why should "the reduction in the Tariff" effect the price of the hay in Canada?

Empty coachboats and barges are needed at Pittsburgh. No more coal will be mined until they reach that port.

The boys around the C. and O. Depot and yards in this city are making extensive preparations for the annual inspection this month.

A company is being organized in Cincinnati to manufacture the Lockwood sleeping car. It is said to be a better car than Pullman makes.

Pullman Ingalls of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad says that his company intends to expend $2,000,000 in improvements at Richmond, Va.

The United States Government has appropriated $3,825,300 for creating slack water navigation on the great Kanawha river, from the Ohio river at Point Pleasant to a point near the Kanawha Falls, Fayette county, W. Va., a distance of 90 miles.

The through train movement record of C. and O. passenger trains for the month of September shows that Trains 1, 2, 3 and 4 arrived at terminals only ten minutes late, which is an excellent record, taking into consideration the heavy business these trains were subject to during the month.

The following is the stock of coal that was sold between Nether and New Orleans on the 30th day of September: 101 boats and 1 barge; Bayou Sara, 8 boats; Baton Rouge, 29 boats; Plaquemine, 22 boats; Donaldsonville, 9 boats; Willow Grove Landing, 30 boats; New Orleans, 22 boats and 3 barges; total, 148 boats and 3 barges, at the same time last year. The consumption during September was 28 boats and 1 barge.

A Michigan Man Puts Dynamite in the Oven of the Kitchen Stove.

In a Few Minutes There Was a Terrible Explosion, and the House Was Blasted Out of Existence.

INWOOD, Mich., Oct. 9.—John Ravell, a miner, this evening put a half box of dynamite in the oven of the kitchen stove to keep for use in the morning. The family, consisting of seven persons, was gathered about the stove, chatting over the events of the day and conversing with a neighbor, Mrs. Peterson. In a few minutes, without a premonition of danger, there was a terrific explosion.

The following were killed: John Ravell, Peter Ravell, Dan Ravell, Louise Ravell, Mrs. Louise Peterson. Injured: Baby Clarence Ravell, Mrs. John Ravell, Thomas Ravell.

The injured are in a dangerous condition, and it is not unlikely that the family will be exterminated as a result of the father's foolish move.

The house was blown to atoms.

WELCOME TO WILSON.

A Reception Tendered to the Distinguished Visiting Statesman.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 9.—Wm. L. Wilson was welcomed to West Virginia with an enthusiasm unequalled in the memory of the oldest citizen of this quaint old town. A committee of 160 citizens, accompanied by the Charleston Cornet brass band, met the train conveying Mr. Wilson and the Washington party at Harper's Ferry. As the train drew into Charleston, two additional bands hailed Mr. Wilson's arrival with "Ode" the strains of which were almost drowned by the shouts of 1,000 people. Hats were thrown in the air and ladies waved their handkerchiefs. Proceeding up the principal streets to the courthouse, cheers followed the procession, and a great crowd surrounded Mr. Wilson's carriage. Flags were displayed from numerous windows. The entire route of the procession was one of constant ovation.

The little courthouse could not hold one-half of the people who endeavored to crowd into it. In the audience were many ladies of Charleston. A sprinkling of black faces looked down from the galleries and followed Mr. Wilson's remarks with interest. Placed above the speaker's stand was a large portrait of President Cleveland, flanked on either side by pictures of Mr. Wilson. American flags were distributed about the room.

As Mr. Wilson entered the audience cheered for several minutes. He was introduced by E. E. Chay in a brief speech, as the "First Citizen of the Commonwealth." This was the signal for the bands to again play "Home Again," and after order was restored Mr. Wilson, with much feeling, made acknowledgment of the warmth of his reception.

Referring to the criticisms made on his London speech, he said it was garbled. He did not, however, feel afraid to tell the people of London what he had told before to the people of West Virginia, and that he was engaged in tearing down the tariff wall, and soon would complete with Great Britain a treaty for the sea-carrying trade of the world.

TRAIN FIGHT.

Black Men Got the Worst of It, and It Is Said There Were Killed.

HAWESVILLE, Ky., Oct. 9.—An escape train from Owensboro failed to arrive at Powers station, near Maysville, West of this city, Sunday night, a terrible race light occurred between thirty drunken Negroes and a few white men, as a result of which several Negroes are said to have been killed. It seems the Negroes became angered because they were forced to ride in the colored car, and as they were unable to get to their homes station they made a rush to get into the coach for white people. They frightened the women and children, many who ran through the train. At this Deputy U. S. Marshal Moses Bullington, who had his family on the train, met the Negroes and began to quiet them. The Negroes then began shooting as they got off the train. Deputy Bullington and "Squire" Aldridge, both of this city, and Marshal Jones and Col. J. M. Patterson of Lewisport, and half a dozen men named Atkins, from the Negro train, began firing at the Negroes. As the train pulled out the Negroes shot all the windows out of one coach and the white men supplied all their guns with Negroes, who were bunched on the platform. No one on the train was hurt, but it is thought at least seven Negroes were killed and a many more injured. One white man on the train used his knife, which was covered with blood when he came in. These statements are from the papers of United States Marshal Bullington.
